

REASON # 10 Being Proactive Has Never Been So Easy

Your clients hire you to keep their systems up and running, so surprise breakages are a big problem. But how do you prevent breakages from happening? That's where LabTech comes in. LabTech has all the tools you need to keep client systems running at peak performance, and with more than 500 built-in monitors, you'll always know when your clients' computer or network health begins to wane.

Resolve Issues Before They Cause Breakages

One of the greatest benefits of LabTech is less client downtime. Because LabTech lets you proactively monitor and fix issues before they interrupt your clients' business, you can virtually eliminate system outages. LabTech lets you monitor virus updates, ensure antivirus programs are enabled and that regular backups are taking place. Even common problems like running out of drive space can be handled proactively because you can see what's going to happen and take action long before an incident takes place.

Powered by LabTech Ignite®

LabTech Ignite was designed to provide the highest level of automation out-of-the-box. Built directly into LabTech, LabTech Ignite includes more than 500 monitors and alerts based on Microsoft® and IT industry best practices and over 300 auto-fix scripts to resolve common issues, so you don't have to.

VMware Monitoring and Management

With LabTech, you can even monitor your clients' virtual environments. Our Virtualization Manager plug-in makes it easy to provide agentless VMware infrastructure monitoring and basic management of ESX/ESXi hosts and guests. The plug-in includes a rich library of critical ESX availability and performance monitors based on VMware best practices, pre-configured thresholds, alerting and power state management.

"Ignite has really allowed us to right out-of-the-box turn on the monitoring and alerting to take care of our clients' needs."
